

EMOTION CHART (PRATICAL INPUT METHOD)

It is really very important to give practical input to the child what exactly you are teaching to them; else it may take too much time with fewer results. Children always observe their parents so be their teaching methods. Let's have a look on practical approach.

1. Play way methods: Hey baby (your child's) name; see my happy face (you really need to give a big smile to show them). After that, ask him/her to do the same, hey, now you show me your happy face.

2. Play way methods: Hey baby (your child's) name; see my sad face (you need to make sad face to show them). After that, ask him/her to do the same. Hey, now you show me your sad face

3. Play way methods: Hey baby (your child's) name; see my angry face (you need to show angry face to show them). After that, ask him/her to do the same. Hey, now you show me your angry face.

4. Play way methods: Hey baby (your child's) name; see my scared face (you need to show scared face to show them). After that, ask him/her to do the same. Hey now, you show me your scared face.

5. Play way methods: Hey baby (your child's) name; see my surprised face (you need to show surprised face to show them). After that, ask him/her to do the same. Hey, now you will show me your surprised face.

6. Play way methods: Hey baby (your child's) name, see my excited face (you need to show excited face to show them). After that, ask him/her to do the same. Hey, now you show me your excited face.

7. Play way methods: Hey baby (your child's) name; see my calm face (you need to show calm face to show them). After that, ask him/her to do the same. Hey, now you show me your calm face.

8. Play way methods: Hey baby (your child's) name; see my tired face (you need tired face to them). After that, ask him/her to do the same. Hey now, you should show me your tired face.
